

Teacher:	Ray Joshua Balingkit	Subject:	Media Studies
Week:	2 (Term 1)	Year:	10-11
Link:		Cover:

LESSON OVERVIEW

What should students know/do by the end of this week's lessons?

Students will learn to explain science-fiction features and character roles, using accurate textbook terminology and a justified example. They will also learn to analyse science-fiction films in their historical context, using relevant evidence and clear explanations. Through teacher demonstrations, discussion and practical activities, students will practise these skills and explain their ideas.

End-of-Week Assessment/Check: How will you know they got it?

Teacher questioning, discussion, completed activities and the final checks in both lessons. Check accurate terminology, specific evidence and clear explanations of the weekly topics.

LESSON SLOTS - TUESDAY & FRIDAY

Lesson	Date	Learning Objective	The Lesson Flow	Differentiation
1	1 September 2026	Lesson 1: Science fiction: features and characters By the end of this lesson, students will be able to explain science-fiction features and character roles.	H: Use a short example or retrieval question to activate prior knowledge of science fiction: features and characters. ID: Teach speculative technology, future or unfamiliar worlds, aliens and human characters; heroes and challenged stereotypes. WD: Model one analysis or worked response. Identify a specific feature, explain its meaning and link it to audience or purpose. YD: Students annotate a science-fiction example, linking technology, setting and character roles to genre. Require evidence and explanations, then check responses with a partner. C: Students justify a science-fiction classification using two details. Use responses to identify misconceptions.	Support: Provide key vocabulary, a labelled example and a response frame. Break the task into steps and check understanding before independent work. Extension: Compare an alternative example or interpretation and justify how context changes the audience response.

2	4 September 2026	Lesson 2: Reading science-fiction films; film history By the end of this lesson, students will be able to analyse science-fiction films in their historical context.	H: Use a short example or retrieval question to activate prior knowledge of reading science-fiction films; film history. ID: Teach science-fiction literary roots, early film, effects and CGI; changing production possibilities and hybrid genres. WD: Model one analysis or worked response. Identify a specific feature, explain its meaning and link it to audience or purpose. YD: Students compare two age-appropriate examples from different periods; explain how effects change what can be shown. Require evidence and explanations, then check responses with a partner. C: Students identify one historical development and its effect on film meaning. Use responses to identify misconceptions.	Support: Provide key vocabulary, a labelled example and a response frame. Break the task into steps and check understanding before independent work. Extension: Compare an alternative example or interpretation and justify how context changes the audience response.
3				Support: Extension:
4				Support: Extension:

MATERIALS NEEDED FOR THE WEEK

- GCSE Media Studies for AQA (Heinemann, 2004), printed pages 14-19
- Teacher computer, display and speakers
- Age-appropriate teacher-selected media examples and class save folder
- Relevant textbook activities, analysis sheets and production briefs
- Student notebooks and a teacher assessment checklist

END-OF-WEEK REFLECTION

- What worked well?

- What flopped or confused students?

- What needs to be re-taught or adjusted next week?