LESSON OVERVIEW

What should students know/do by the end of this week's lessons?

Lesson 1: Science fiction: features and characters. Lesson 2: Reading science-fiction films; film history. Students will explain science-fiction features and character roles and analyse science-fiction films in their historical context. Knowledge and application follow the weekly reference extract, printed pages 14-19.

End-of-Week Assessment/Check: Review the independent responses and both exit checks for accurate terminology, specific evidence and clear explanations. Record misconceptions for the next lesson.

LESSON SLOTS - TUESDAY AND FRIDAY

Lesson	Date	Learning Objective	The Lesson Flow	Differentiation
1	1 September 2026	Lesson 1: Science fiction: features and characters By the end of this lesson, students will be able to explain science-fiction features and character roles.	H (5 min): Use a short example or retrieval question to activate prior knowledge of science fiction: features and characters. ID (10 min): Teach speculative technology, future or unfamiliar worlds, aliens and human characters; heroes and challenged stereotypes. WD (10 min): Model one analysis or worked response. Identify a specific feature, explain its meaning and link it to audience or purpose. YD (15 min): Students annotate a science-fiction example, linking technology, setting and character roles to genre. Require evidence and explanations, then check responses with a partner. C (5 min): Students justify a science-fiction classification using two details. Use responses to identify misconceptions.	Support: Provide key vocabulary, a labelled example and a response frame. Break the task into steps and check understanding before independent work. Extension: Compare an alternative example or interpretation and justify how context changes the audience response.

2	4 September 2026	Lesson 2: Reading science-fiction films; film history By the end of this lesson, students will be able to analyse science-fiction films in their historical context.	H (5 min): Use a short example or retrieval question to activate prior knowledge of reading science-fiction films; film history. ID (10 min): Teach science-fiction literary roots, early film, effects and CGI; changing production possibilities and hybrid genres. WD (10 min): Model one analysis or worked response. Identify a specific feature, explain its meaning and link it to audience or purpose. YD (15 min): Students compare two age-appropriate examples from different periods; explain how effects change what can be shown. Require evidence and explanations, then check responses with a partner. C (5 min): Students identify one historical development and its effect on film meaning. Use responses to identify misconceptions.	Support: Provide key vocabulary, a labelled example and a response frame. Break the task into steps and check understanding before independent work. Extension: Compare an alternative example or interpretation and justify how context changes the audience response.
