LESSON OVERVIEW

What should students know/do by the end of this week's lessons?

Lesson 1: Symbolic codes, sound and title sequences. Lesson 2: Television genres and introduction to drama. Students will analyse symbolic codes and sound in title sequences and identify television genres and introduce drama conventions. Knowledge and application follow the weekly reference extract, printed pages 40-46.

End-of-Week Assessment/Check: Review the independent responses and both exit checks for accurate terminology, specific evidence and clear explanations. Record misconceptions for the next lesson.

LESSON SLOTS - TUESDAY AND FRIDAY

Lesson	Date	Learning Objective	The Lesson Flow	Differentiation
1	3 November 2026	Lesson 1: Symbolic codes, sound and title sequences By the end of this lesson, students will be able to analyse symbolic codes and sound in title sequences.	H (5 min): Use a short example or retrieval question to activate prior knowledge of symbolic codes, sound and title sequences. ID (10 min): Teach mise-en-scene, objects, setting, clothing, body language, colour and situated culture; dialogue, music and sound effects. WD (10 min): Model one analysis or worked response. Identify a specific feature, explain its meaning and link it to audience or purpose. YD (15 min): Students analyse an opening with and without sound; explain how symbolic and sound choices shape expectations. Require evidence and explanations, then check responses with a partner. C (5 min): Students support an interpretation using one symbolic code and one sound detail. Use responses to identify misconceptions.	Support: Provide key vocabulary, a labelled example and a response frame. Break the task into steps and check understanding before independent work. Extension: Compare an alternative example or interpretation and justify how context changes the audience response.

2	6 November 2026	Lesson 2: Television genres and introduction to drama By the end of this lesson, students will be able to identify television genres and introduce drama conventions.	H (5 min): Use a short example or retrieval question to activate prior knowledge of television genres and introduction to drama. ID (10 min): Teach genre and audience expectations; drama, soap opera, medical drama, period drama and sitcom; characters and ongoing storylines. WD (10 min): Model one analysis or worked response. Identify a specific feature, explain its meaning and link it to audience or purpose. YD (15 min): Students classify programme descriptions using conventions, then annotate a drama extract for character, setting and narrative clues. Require evidence and explanations, then check responses with a partner. C (5 min): Students justify a genre classification with specific evidence. Use responses to identify misconceptions.	Support: Provide key vocabulary, a labelled example and a response frame. Break the task into steps and check understanding before independent work. Extension: Compare an alternative example or interpretation and justify how context changes the audience response.
