LESSON OVERVIEW

What should students know/do by the end of this week's lessons?

Lesson 1: Television drama: characters and settings. Lesson 2: Medical drama and introduction to sitcom. Students will analyse how drama characters and settings engage viewers and compare medical-drama conventions with sitcom conventions. Knowledge and application follow the weekly reference extract, printed pages 47-51.

End-of-Week Assessment/Check: Review the independent responses and both exit checks for accurate terminology, specific evidence and clear explanations. Record misconceptions for the next lesson.

LESSON SLOTS - TUESDAY AND FRIDAY

Lesson	Date	Learning Objective	The Lesson Flow	Differentiation
1	10 November 2026	Lesson 1: Television drama: characters and settings By the end of this lesson, students will be able to analyse how drama characters and settings engage viewers.	H (5 min): Use a short example or retrieval question to activate prior knowledge of television drama: characters and settings. ID (10 min): Teach central protagonists, supporting characters, relationships, voice, gesture and stereotypes; recurring locations and familiarity. WD (10 min): Model one analysis or worked response. Identify a specific feature, explain its meaning and link it to audience or purpose. YD (15 min): Students create a character relationship map and analyse how a setting helps the audience understand relationships or conflict. Require evidence and explanations, then check responses with a partner. C (5 min): Students explain how one performance or setting detail engages viewers. Use responses to identify misconceptions.	Support: Provide key vocabulary, a labelled example and a response frame. Break the task into steps and check understanding before independent work. Extension: Compare an alternative example or interpretation and justify how context changes the audience response.

2	13 November 2026	Lesson 2: Medical drama and introduction to sitcom By the end of this lesson, students will be able to compare medical-drama conventions with sitcom conventions.	H (5 min): Use a short example or retrieval question to activate prior knowledge of medical drama and introduction to sitcom. ID (10 min): Teach medical settings, professional roles, emergencies and personal storylines; sitcom recurring characters, settings and comic disruption. WD (10 min): Model one analysis or worked response. Identify a specific feature, explain its meaning and link it to audience or purpose. YD (15 min): Students compare short medical-drama and sitcom examples using setting, character, narrative and audience appeal. Require evidence and explanations, then check responses with a partner. C (5 min): Students identify one shared feature and one meaningful genre difference. Use responses to identify misconceptions.	Support: Provide key vocabulary, a labelled example and a response frame. Break the task into steps and check understanding before independent work. Extension: Compare an alternative example or interpretation and justify how context changes the audience response.
